The award-winning stories in A Fisherman of the Inland Sea range from the everyday to the outer limits of experience, where the quantum uncertainties of space and time are resolved only in the depths of the human heart. Astonishing in their diversity and power, they exhibit both the artistry of a major writer at the height of her powers and the humanity of a mature artist confronting the world with her gift of wonder still intact.

About book: Ursula Le Guin is best known for her fantasy and her science fiction writings, though she also writes other fiction as well as poetry, articles and reviews. The short stories in this 1994 collection, while firmly in the SF genre, also demonstrate her ability to compose in various tones, from light to dark, from gentle humour to philosophical musings.

Speculiction...: Review of A Fisherman of the Inland Sea ...

I agree with everyone else here that the last selection, "Another Story, or A Fisherman of the Inland Sea," is the best of the lot--not simply for its time travel elements but also for the creation of the character of Hideo and for the story's deliberate echoes of "The Dispossessed." Yet "The Shobies' Story" is also quite clever.
