Joe Larry Brown

Larry Brown sets the scene in Mississippi as a family trudges down the road carrying all their possessions. Gary, one of two central characters is described as "small, but he carries the most." This is a prophetic description. His family has lived all over in many small towns, in tarpaper shacks, and in ditches by the side of the road.

Joe by Larry Brown - Goodreads

"Larry Brown is establishing himself as one of the most authentic literary voices of our generation. It's a voice framed, as many great voices have been, in the inflections of the South. It's a voice as true as a gun rack, unpretentious and uncorrupted, full of wit and sorrow."
