Management Information System, commonly referred to as MIS is a phrase consisting of three words: management, information and systems. Looking at these three words, it's easy to define Management Information Systems as systems that provide information to management. That is the simple definition of MIS that generally sums up what a Management Information System is, and what it should do.

Reporting systems typically exist as components of transactions systems. Historically, this reporting provided snapshots of information about the hospital to management, the board, or other groups. As valuable as these reporting systems were, they can't meet today's industry analytics requirements.
